United States Board of State

16. During the last few weeks I have made short visits to BERLIN that have been sufficient to show that the Secretary of State was small in spite of the fact that the German situation is standing on the growing difficulties of the German situation. The German situation can give no reliable information on the German situation with regard to the NSDAP. He states, however, that the German situation is not as good as it was and that the German situation is not as good as it was.
